President's Page*Halftime!

I hope you got out and rode over the past few weeks. The cold came fast and gave us just enough snow to ride. We got out and groomed the best we could but there wasn't a whole lot to work with. We still had some wet spots and rough terrain but most of the trails were pretty good. In early season, the water takes time to freeze because of the rain and warm temps, but once it freezes, it usually stays until spring. It would be nice to just wait until there's just the right amount of snow and the trails have a good base, but I don't have to remind you that you're in WNY, where temps can fluctuate 40 degrees in one day and we can lose it all in 2 days! Get it while you can!

We also had a chance to try out some new trails. For the most part, they're working great. Remember to STAY ON THE TRAIL and follow the markings. The only problems we've had is when some numbnuts rides across somebody's driveway, front lawn, cuts across a field, or rides where there's NOT a trail. This is 100% of the reason why we loose trails so if you see anyone, make sure you get the plate numbers/ make so we can give them some grief! Maybe we should start a "numbnuts of the week" award????!!

We also had a chance to use the new groomer. What a machine! We can groom a little faster and more efficiently because (with 2 units) we can plan our routes a little better and not have to be everywhere all the time! It runs great and is definitely a beautiful piece of equipment! Remember to donate to the groomer boxes and keep 'em full!

Thanks again for all who stepped up at the last minute and got the remaining trails installed and marked. With 125+ miles, it's quite a job! If you see anything out of place please fix it or call us to let us know. NESS wants safe trails!

That's it for now. I can't believe its halftime already! Hope the second half lasts longer and is more intense!

See you at our next meeting on the 28th.

Eric

MESSAGE FROM NIAGARA COUNTY TRAIL COORDINATOR

As of JAN 11th, we have a plan to get trail C4H marked so that we can get to Orleans Co. The groomer has been out when we felt that it was needed & not out for a joy ride. I along with some other groomer operators finally decided on SUN JAN 10th to take our sleds for a ride. We all seemed to meet at the SNOPACKERS pancake breakfast. After done eating everyone seemed to go their own ways but we still crossed paths before we got back home. It finally gave me a chance to ride other clubs trails and I think we do a good job with the amount of snow that we have or had to work with. Still looking on the bright side and hoping for more snow. Thanks again to the 30 plus helpers that we have in Niagara County to get the trail work done.

Any help or info please contact me.

Snowmobiling provides physical and mental health benefits

Winter recreation fights seasonal affective disorder

(Dec 1, 2009 – Haslett, MI) Staying active during the winter months can be a challenge with the icy temperature convincing many to stay nestled indoors. Snowmobiling provides both a great physical workout and supports strong mental health.

Even though you're often sitting when riding a snowmobile, this winter activity is great exercise. Snowmobiling builds a strong core, requiring strength and flexibility to maneuver on the trails. In fact, the average person burns about 238 calories per hour while snowmobiling.

Sunlight deprivation contributes to both winter weight gain and Seasonal Affective Disorder (SAD), more commonly known as the winter blues. SAD is a form of depression in which people who have normal mental health throughout the year experience depressive symptoms during the winter months. The National Health Association estimates that 10 million North American residents suffer from SAD.

In order to treat SAD, many use light therapy to mimic natural outdoor light. With light therapy, exposure to bright light from a light therapy box is thought to alter your circadian rhythms and suppress your body's natural release of melatonin causing biochemical changes in your brain that reduce symptoms of SAD. Snowmobiling provides a much more fun and easy way to get natural lighting and exercise.

On average, people spend about 90 percent of their time indoors, breathing in stale air and mixing with other people's germs. There are even fewer people outdoors in the winter. Staying active year-round boosts your immune system and helps ward off winter colds.

To combat the threats posed by today's indoor, inactive lifestyles – such as the growing obesity epidemic, several hundred organizations have teamed up to promote outdoor recreation. This United States national effort is led by the U.S. Forest Service. The mission of the effort is to:

Unify public and private-sector interests in efforts to influence American lifestyles, in ways that maximize the physical, mental and other benefits derived from activities in the Great Outdoors.

The National effort is simply called – GO Day. In the snowmobiling world, we call it Go Snowmobiling. We encourage you to invite your friends and family members to get outside and go snowmobiling. The enthusiasm is catchy!

For those interested in learning more about snowmobiling, www.gosnowmobiling.org is an essential tool for guidance. The site provides information on getting started in snowmobiling, dealers and renters who can supply you with a snowmobile, locations to snowmobile, and more.
